How he presents

In detail

Vladimir Pozner was born in Paris, lived with his family in New York, then moved to Soviet-occupied Berlin and Moscow. He graduated in 1958 with a Master’s degree in biology. In 1961 Pozner joined Novosti Press Agency as a senior editor, later becoming executive editor of Soviet Life magazine and then Sputnik magazine. In 1970 Pozner joined the USSR State Committee for TV & Radio as a commentator for the North American Service of Radio Moscow. In the mid-80s he co-hosted several televised discussions between audiences in the Soviet Union and the USA. He moved to the USA and appeared on US network television shows on NBC, CBS, CNN, as well as the CBC (Canada), the BBC, and television networks in France and Japan. He returned to Moscow in 1997, continuing his work as an independent television journalist. In 1997 he founded the School for Television Excellence to educate and promote young journalists.
